"I will never let you do that!!"—Chiremi's dad.

Are Hinata and Chiremi embarking new territory?!

I can't believe how quickly volume two came out. I didn't have a photo to put in this space, so I went searching through my drawers for one. I (probably) took this photo in France when I went there for a research trip after my debut. That was almost ten years ago. I get bored easily, so it's kind of amazing that I've been writing manga for this long. Well, sort of...

Jun'ai Tokkou Taichou!

STORY SO FAR:

To avoid getting expelled from school, Chiemi had to reform the problematic student, Hirata, in a ploy devised by her teacher. But she found out that Hirata is actually a very nice guy who takes good care of his younger brother. Eventually, she and Hirata started going out!

They finally went on their first date, but it failed miserably because Chiemi lost her perverted thoughts go to her head. Chiemi, too weak to fend for herself, was harassed by some older students, but Hirata got mad and drove them away!

Then a transfer student, Mizuki, who's also Chiemi's cousin caused a potential disaster between Hirata and Chiemi. They were close to breaking up!! But Hirata showed his manly character and the problem was resolved. They're back together (for now). But ?!

HIRATA'S FRIENDS

HIROTA
An Elvis-style hairdo is his special trait. A fun-loving guy.

OHNO
A kind guy with a cool personality.

CHIEMI'S FRIENDS

YUKARI
A reliable person who makes judgmental comments.

MAKI
A cute and mysterious girl

HIRATA AKIFUMI
Strong at fighting. Known as the black devil of Nishi High. Gone to and kind.

YUSA CHIEMI
They're the most powerful couple!
Has a strong sense of justice. A normally high school girl. Fairly pure hearted.

Rattle
...Ah.
No.
Nothing.
Huh?
Yeah, okay in half an hour, then

I was always teased at school and it was embarrassing.
Now that you're retired, you're just a middle-aged man with a big belly!

And, well...
Hey, Chiemi, your dad was on television last night.
They really are alike, aren't they?
Sir?
I watched it, too.

He doesn't seem excited about meeting my dad at all.

What should I do...?

Under the blazing sun, the principal(...) but I won't give in! I can't give in(...) So—I I endured it. I had to face it as I thought about the passion and support from my friends who fell ill. Under the blazing sun, I pondered on how long it has been. I endured the feelings of strong attraction so many times. What was the principal's story about? I guess, it was more like who messed with the rabbit cage, huh? I don't remember now, but I was determined not to fail. If I failed, I'd reject everything about me. It was a really big battle for me because I was striving to become a really great person, but here comes something that would change my life forever. My world got distorted and tilted at the next moment for some reason that was impossible to figure out. The strength in my body was gone, and I fell on my back. I remember the blue sky on that day. A strong sense of loss came up from deep inside my chest. It was the first time that I thought a sunny sky looked really sad. I cried. It was a sad blue sky, but also at the same time, it was deep blue—a deep color that could embrace me and say, "Come here and get some rest if you're hurt and tired from your battle." Then, I lost consciousness. When I woke up, I was under the tree at the corner of the school yard. I don't know who to me there, but even though the great me had fallen, the person who me here didn't provide a bed. I was angry from deep within my soul. Because I thought it was weir was me, the great me who had fallen. Then, a girl with a wet towel came from behind the tree and "Yusa-kun, you were talking in your sleep and asked to give the bed to your buddies; you didn't want th for yourself. So I took you here." When I heard those words, I really felt how great I was. I cried again be great from deep inside my soul. Then, she told me, "Yusa-kun, you're strange." And then, she couldn't believe my ears. But the next moment, I realized that she was the one who really understood self. She recognized my great aura! When I felt that strong, mysterious wind blow into my soul, I rec how it was a warm and gentle wind. What is this? Every time I looked into her eyes, this mysterious win violently within me. I wondered if she was the key person that would help me become really great. If know her, I can become my ideal self. The wind that was blowing inside of me ted mysteriously and m act in a mysterious way. During lunchtime that day, re wasn't an

I thought something was changing. Something was there that wasn't there before. I thought, "By opening this unknown door, I can gain something!" So, I put my hand on her neatly folded underwear... Her underwear! This underwear that was in my hands was the underwear that she used. A few minutes later, I got crazy just thinking about it. "What are these strong feelings coming out from deep within my heart?" I recollected. That day, after realizing my great potential, I have been striving to improve my greatness since then and trained myself by going through harsh ordeals. Holding the underwear in my hands, I cried. Tears came out all by themselves. The touch of the underwear was blissful, especially since it was hers. It was like going to the heaven. Then, I realized it. It was love. Love is such a beautiful thing, and it gives a person his precious moment to going forward. I had made my mind. It was very courageous of me to do that. I put her underwear on my head. It was meaningless to ask if it was okay or not. I just wanted to put her underwear on my head. My hands were shaking like crazy. Maybe I was scared. I felt like there was no turning back once I did it. I just had to go on. I can't stop here. I can't. And then, I put the underwear... the underwear... into..
